The image of Will Rogers High School is the combination of a great American namesake, a favorite Roper, a familiar building, and a student body. During the past 17 years the prestige of our high school has risen to national fame through the efforts of our principal, Dr. R. W. Knight.

Dr. Knight completed his preparation for the field of education by receiving his B.S. Degree from Kansas State Teachers College, his M.A. Degree from Columbia University, and his Ed.D. from the University of Oklahoma. In 1925 he began his career as a teacher and principal in Hominy, Oklahoma. Moving to Tulsa in 1929 he served as an elementary principal for three years, a junior high principal for 17 years, and a summer faculty member at OSU, OU, and TU. In 1950 Dr. Knight came to Will Rogers High School. Since that time he has provided leadership for countless national, state, and local educational organizations. He was recipient of the 1961 Secondary Principal of the Year Leadership Award and named to Who's Who in America in 1963.

An unparalleled expansion has occurred in the school since the arrival of Dr. Knight, with the addition of a new wing, parking lots, and a football practice field. Dr. Knight's continuing interest in young people has been proven many times by his efforts to obtain scholarships for Rogers' students. This year as he retires, the Class of '68 has established in his honor a scholarship fund to continue his work.

Dr. Knight's interest has been to provide young people with opportunities for leadership and growth. He expressed his faith in our school when he said: "This is the greatest living memorial to Will Rogers because we are making citizens."

Students Develop Individual Talents

The fine arts department, including art, foreign languages, music and speech, provides students with a wide scope of courses suited to their individual talents.

The art department, offering courses in Basic Art, Commercial Art, Painting and Composition, Fashion and Interior Design, is responsible for the artistic talent which produces sets for Round-Up and the class plays.

New records, books and films have done much to strengthen the foreign language department. Russian has been added to the extensive training already offered in French, German, Latin and Spanish. The language lab offers interested students the facilities for more comprehensive study.

The spring presentation of Haydn's "Creation" highlighted the music department's list of performances for the year as the instrumental and vocal divisions combined their efforts. The department provides music for many assemblies and, in addition, performs evening concerts and entertains the junior highs. Students receive extensive instruction in practical and theoretical music.

Closed-circuit TV and audio-visual cameras are being used in the speech department. This technique has proved beneficial in developing the abilities of students interested in dramatics, debate and parliamentary procedure.

"If you kids don't quiet down, I'm going to . . ." Spanish teacher Mr. Martin.

English Teachers Use New Methods

"Once upon a time . . ." Mrs. Whitman.

The English department has continued to modernize with the addition of film and slide projectors, tape recorders, books and records. Plans for introducing the new technique of team teaching were discussed. Mrs. Linda Schonwald of the English department and Mrs. Mary Ann Parker of the history department experimented by coordinating their sophomore literature and history courses.

World literature is emphasized in senior English with the study of such literary classics as Hamlet, Cyrano de Bergerac and Oedipus. Films and records aid in comprehensive study of the humanities, Oedipus and Hamlet. Selected seniors studied in an advanced placement course, and in the spring achievement tests are administered to these college-bound students.

English literature is highlighted in the juniors' study. Dicken's Tale of Two Cities and Shakespeare's Macbeth serve as a basis for the study of the novel.

Hawthorne's The Seven Gables and Wilder's award winning Our Town are the major works studied by sophomores in their course in American literature.

The library offers extensive research opportunities for all English students. New books, periodicals, and magazines provide a constant source of current information.

Through the American Institute of Foreign study, Mrs. Betty Kinser will sponsor a group as they study for the summer at Oxford University under American Institute of Foreign Study.

Girls are required to participate in gym for one year. Their activities include field hockey, basketball, softball, tennis, modern dancing and swimming. A newly organized gymnastics program is designed to develop the skills needed to perform on the balance beam and parallel bars.

Math Features College Courses

New equipment and teaching devices have added new interest to the mathematics department. Sufficient overhead projectors have been secured to be used in each classroom. Filmstrips, transparencies, and plastic geometric figures provide visual aids for students.

Under Mrs. Virginia Parks' leadership, the department offers algebra, plane geometry, solid geometry, trigonometry and physics. For advanced students, Math Analysis and College Algebra provide for a stimulating challenge and comprehensive study.

Co-op, Distributive Education and Industrial Cooperative Training offer students opportunities to gain experience in business while continuing a regular high school program. Training is given in such areas as cosmetology, vocational printing, woods, machine shop, electronics, drafting and auto mechanics.

During extensive remodeling a dust exhaust system was installed in the wood shop and an automatic feed press was added to the printing shop. Several shops received additional storage facilities and all shops were cleaned and painted.

Clothing, Foods, Home Economics, Home Nursing and Child Development are among the varied homemaking courses offered to those girls preparing for their future homes.

History Classes Explore New Books

Will Rogers' history department continued to offer courses which aid students to understand the continuing heritage of mankind. Students are exposed to the varied peoples and cultures which have combined to form our complex world and influence its governmental forms.

Headed by Mrs. Gracie Paxton, the department's curriculum includes study in United States History, Oklahoma History, World History, Ancient and Medieval History, Sociology, Government and Economics.

Movies and filmstrips secured from the Education Service Center helped students visually to understand the course of events which has shaped history. Numerous new books were added to the sociology division. Eric Hoffer's The True Believer, Philip Olson's America As A Mass Society, and R. E. Lapp's Kill and Overkill gave new depth to this course which relates the composition and determining factors of our modern society. Student's understanding was further aided by nationwide economics tests.

Business Provides Practical Training

Karen Carter and Jackie Baumer help Miss Doolin record test scores in office machines.

The business department at Rogers offers various courses which prepare students for a career in business and office work. The department offers three programs, Co-op, DE, and DO, allowing a student to attend school for half a day while holding a part time job. The business curriculum includes basic business, typing, shorthand, office machines, notehand, transcription, bookkeeping, business law, and communications. Communications is a new course which teaches students how to apply for jobs, write letters, take tests, and conduct interviews. Students study the use of such business equipment as calculators, dictaphones, duplicators, addressographs, and comptometers.

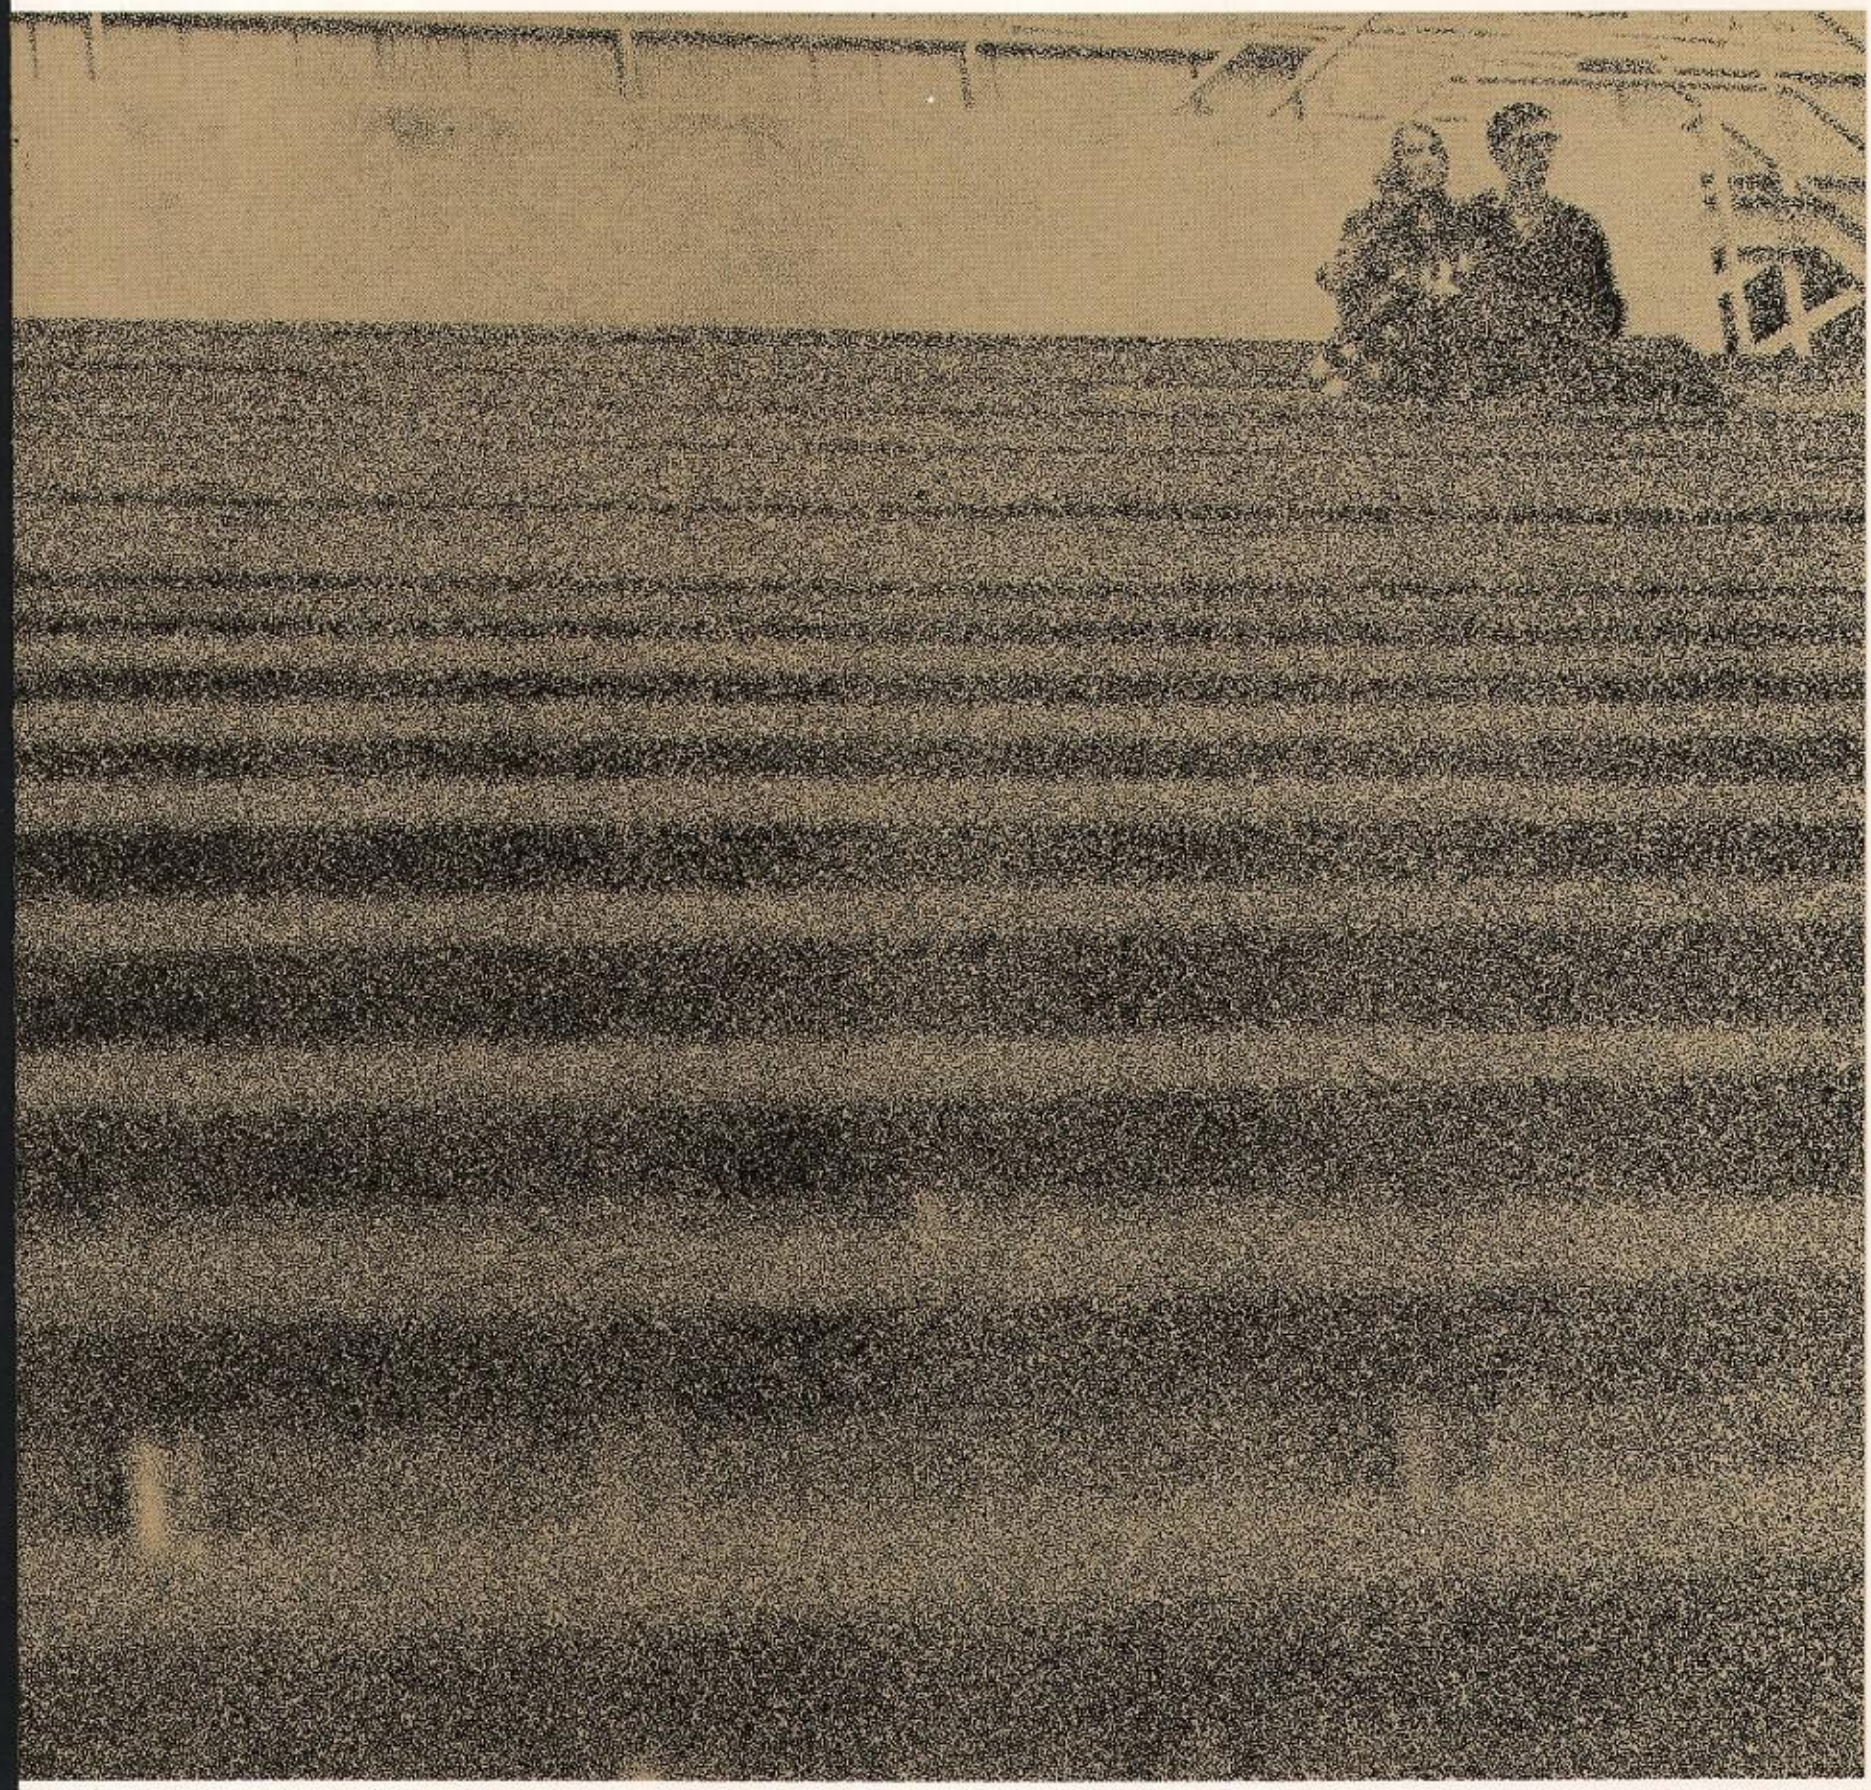
ATHLETICS



Team Meets Challenge Head-On

Rogers' Allen Mullinax (33) breaks up a pass play to Central's Willie Holt (88).

After getting off to a shaky start with a 22-6 loss to Enid, Coach Bill Eubank's Ropers took three straight victories and looked to be a strong contender for the Oklahoma Seven Conference Crown.

Rogers opened 0-7 play with a 12-6 win over Muskogee in a game that saw numerous turnovers.

In the second league contest, the Roper squad edged out arch-rival Central, 10-7.

Traveling to Salina, Kansas, the blue and gold upped their winning streak with a 6-0 victory over the Mustangs.

Returning to 0-7 competition, the team found the going rough. After a 14-12 upset by Edison, the demoralized Ropers encountered a 13-6 loss to Hale.

Back on the road, the Tulsa team visited the cities of state powers, Norman and Ponca City, and fell short 14-7 and 28-15, respectively.

The regular season closed strongly with Rogers taking two straight victories over Bartlesville and Memorial. The footballers defeated the B'Ville Wildcats 14-6 before trouncing the Memorial Chargers 32-14.

Carl Kime spots the ball for Robert Taylor. Taylor's kick goes past the Central defenders and over the crossbar for the winning score.

Coaches Pilot Team To 5-5 Season

In his third year as head coach, Bill Eubanks and his staff of assistants piloted the Ropers to an even 5-5 season mark.

Coach Eubanks received help with the backfield from Darrell Woolf, who came to Rogers from Tulsa University. Back for his second year as line coach was Tom McGuire, also from T.U. Roper Athletic Director, Tom Hurst worked with the ends to sharpen the passing attack.

Rogers' Allen Mullinax puts the stop to a Bartlesville back as All-star linebacker Harry Lowery moves in to make the assist.

Back Tim Marrs is brought down by two Edison players during an Okla-7 game.

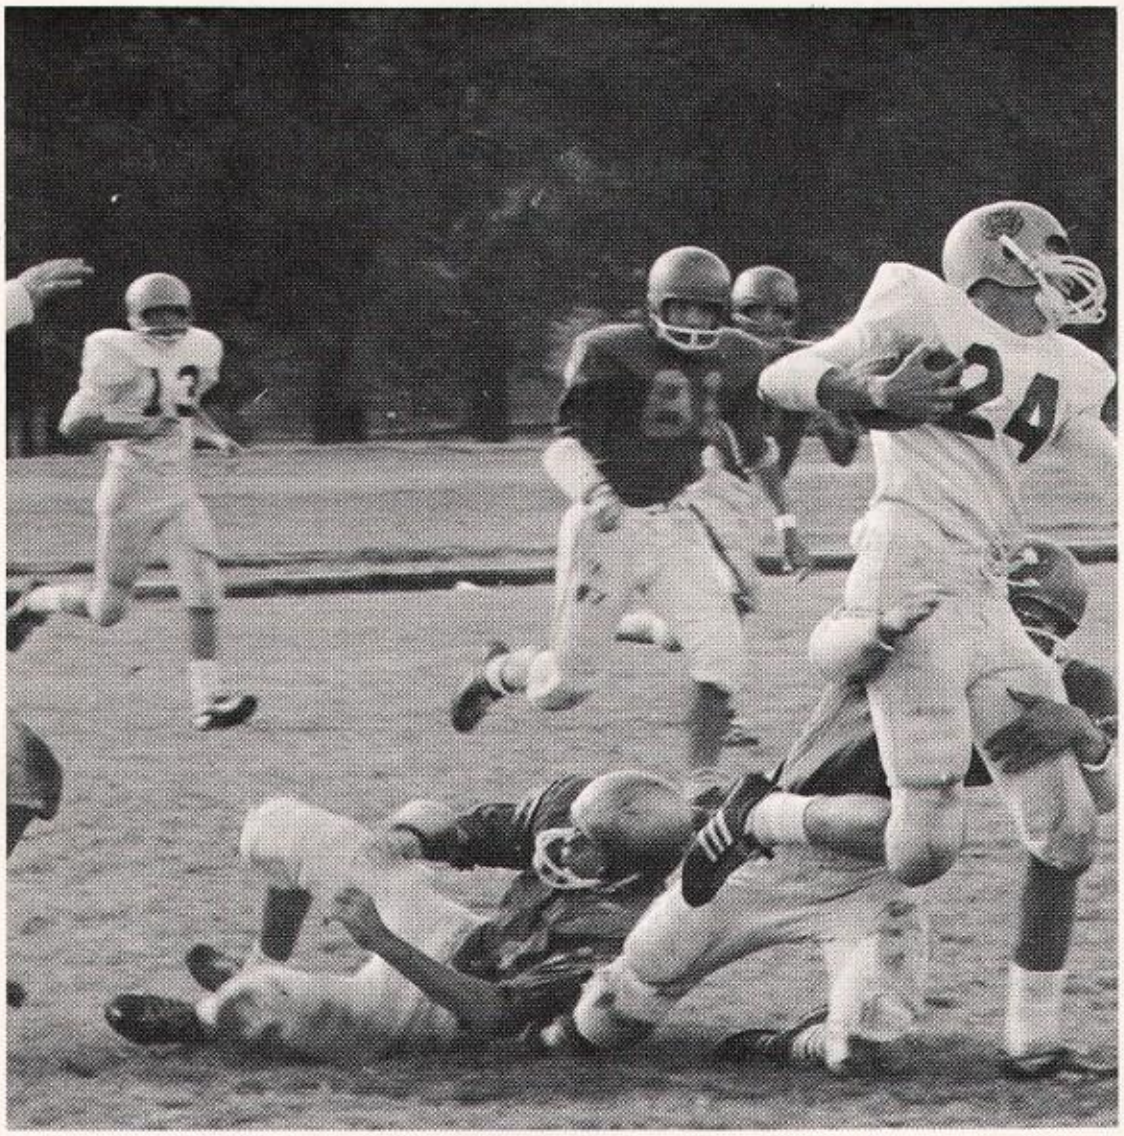
5-4 Season Accumulated By B-Squad



Roper B-Squaders bring down a Bartlesville B-squad back in a bitterly contested game.

This year's B-squad proved equally successful as their upperclassmen in amassing five wins against four setbacks. The young Ropers finished strong with three straight wins against McLain and Central twice.

The season opener saw the underclassmen do battle with Washington and came up short, 14-0.

Coaches Howard Hogue and Billy Joe Cagle avenged their first loss with a 22-14 decision over Bartlesville Sooner.

The Ropers lost three of their next four starts, the only victory coming over Memorial, in a 30-6 rout.

Giving up six points in the last three encounters, the blue and gold shut out McLain Scots, 32-0, before taking Central Braves, 26-6 and 6-0.

Rocha Places First in Conference

Coach Tom Lingenfelter's cross-country team finished another successful season, highlighted by Hector Rocha's brilliant first place finish in the 0-7 conference meet. Besides conference, the harriers competed in three dual contests and six invitational meets.

A narrow one point loss to Central kept the Ropers from a perfect record in dual meets as they easily defeated Webster and Stillwater. Action in invitational meets saw the Ropers keep in stride with their dual honors. Journeying to Oklahoma Baptist and Oklahoma State University, the team placed sixth and seventh, respectively, from a large field of contestants. Another impressive showing came in the Edison Invitational as the Ropers finished tenth in a field of twenty-one.

Rocha strains for a last bit of energy.

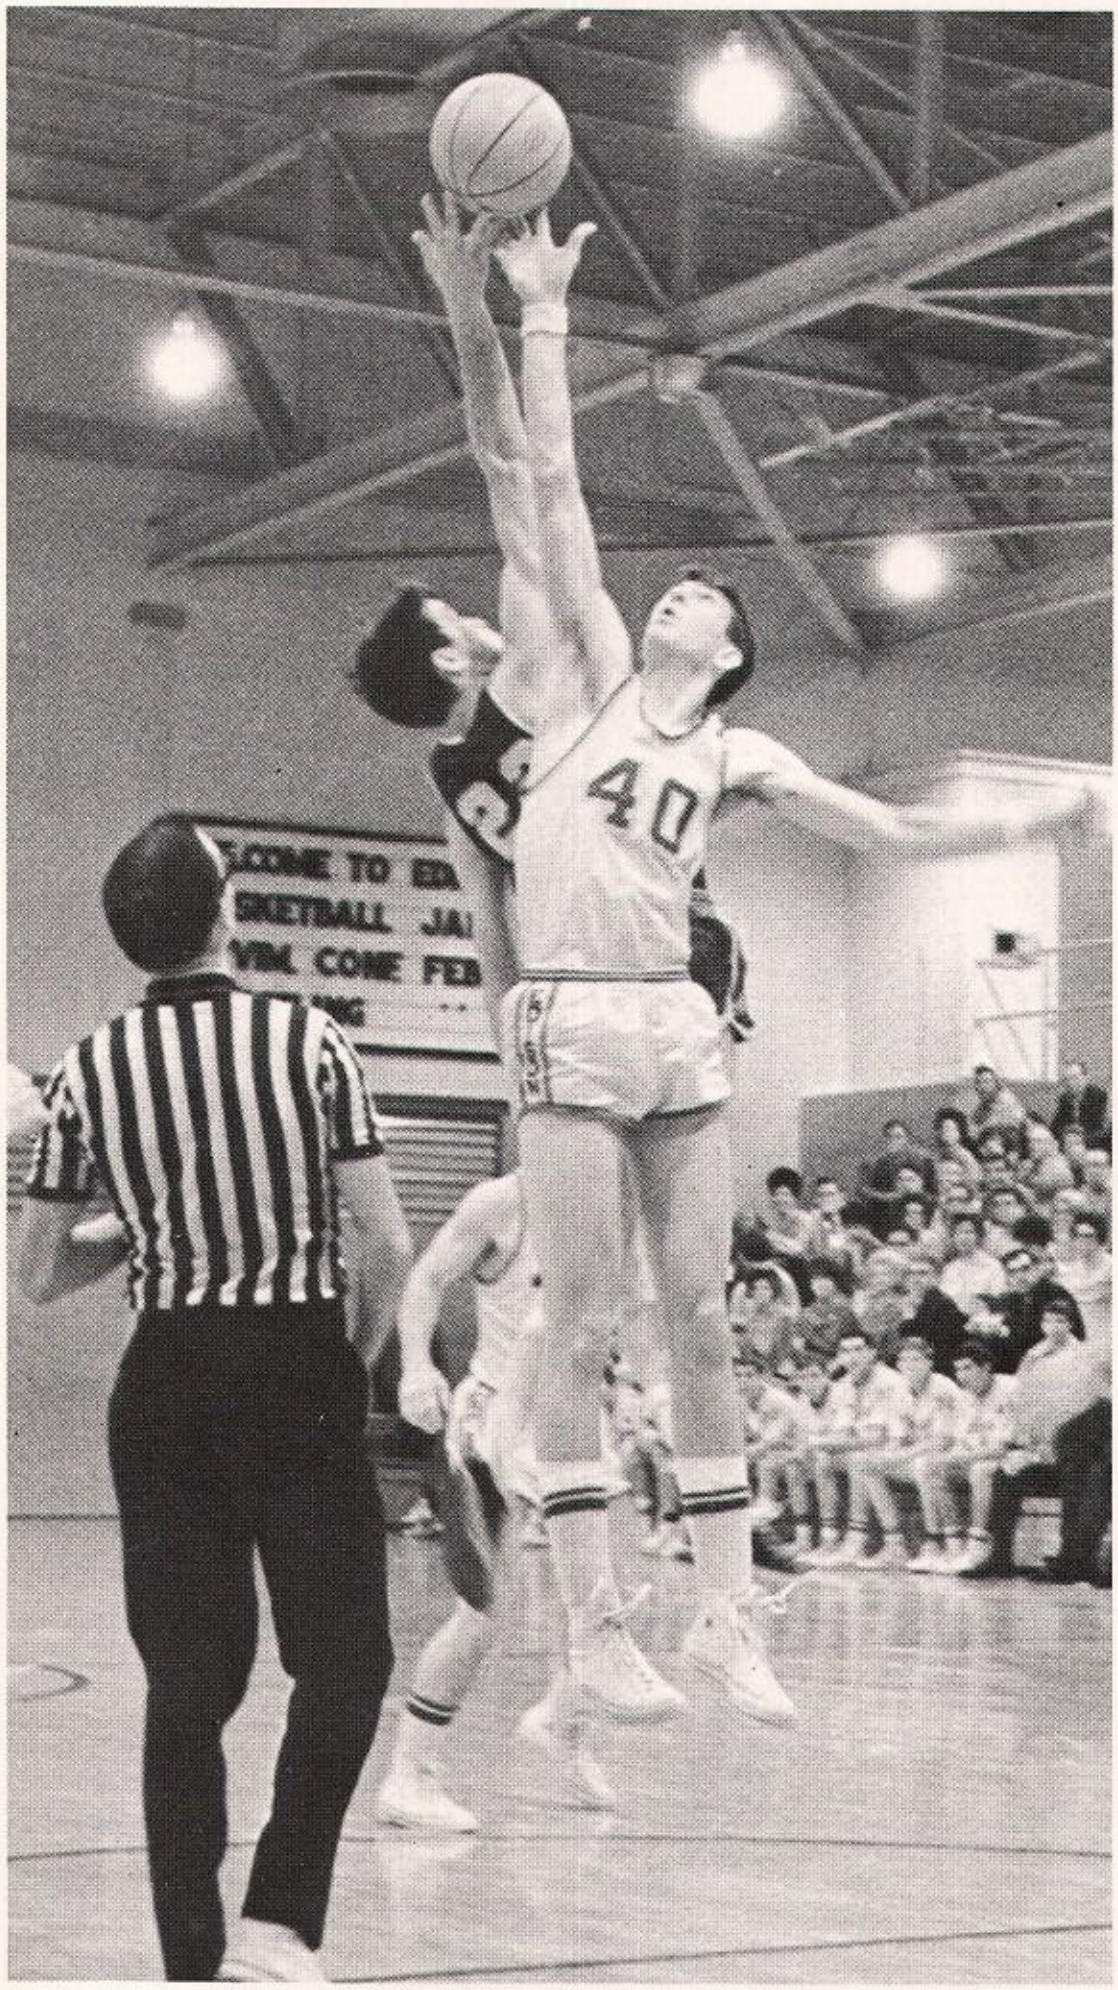
Ropers Go for State Title



Kirk Knight goes for a jump ball against Edison's Eric Mueller.

Successfully defending their 0-7 Conference championship the Ropers marched to an impressive 19-4 season record. With the aid of five returning lettermen, Coach Ken Henson led the team to twelve victories in its first thirteen starts.

Opening the season with five consecutive wins the Ropers then bowed to the host Hale Rangers in the finals of the Hale Tournament. The roundballers bounced back with easy wins over Edison and Drumwright.

Beginning January with the O.R.U. Tournament the cagers emerged on top with wins over Joplin, Missouri, Broken Arrow, and Nathan Hale. The team then returned to 0-7 action winning five of their last eight encounters. The squad finished conference play with a 9-3 record, a mark good enough for first place in the conference and a number two ranking in the state.

After regular season play the Ropers defeated Putnam City to gain a place in the state play-offs. The team's hopes for the state championship, however, were lost when Midwest City upset Rogers after a hard fought game.

Cager Games Tension-Filled

Twelve basketball players and two managers received letters following the 1967-1968 season. In addition to Kirk Knight, Charles Kimball, Tim Marrs, Rick Miller and Bob Pulliam, all of whom are returning lettermen, Coach Henson lettered one senior, four juniors and two sophomores.

With senior experience backed by the underclassmen's support the Ropers found a winning combination and compiled an impressive season record.

Under the experienced coaching of Ken Henson and Wendell Wilkinson the Roper team reached the state playoffs in Oklahoma City, on March 1.

The Roper B-squad closed out its season with an 8-9 record. Five players, Mark Sizemore, Steve Howell, John Harris, Jack Melton, and Jeff Martin, were regular starters for the team. Although not an impressive record, the B-squad does promise to lend help to next year's A-squad round ballers.

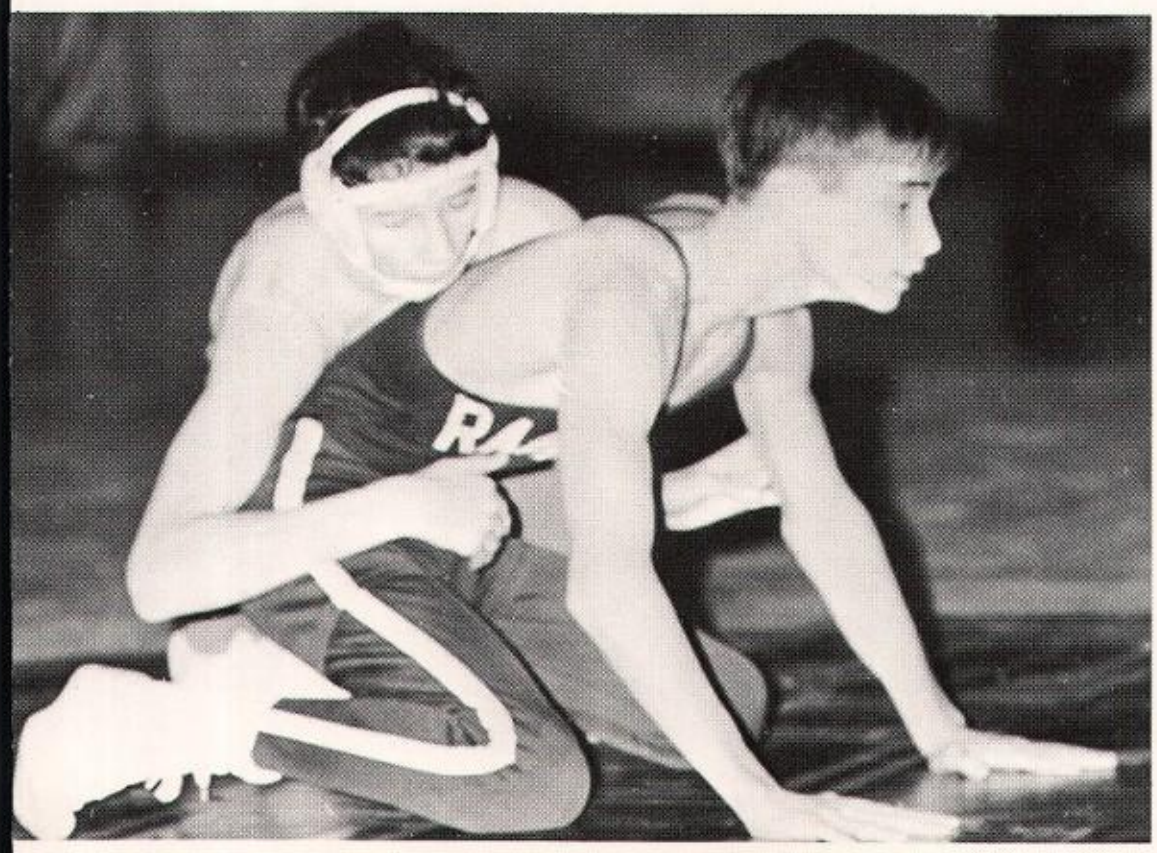
Wrestlers Rebuild Team



Charles Hewlett rides Hale's Tony Speer for a 5-3 decision in the State Regionals.

In his 15th season as wrestling mentor, Coach Morey Villareal, rebuilt the team and urged the Roper grapplers to a 6-5 record. Because of the untimely injuries and an increased number of weight divisions, he decided to letter 23 grapplers and three managers.

Starting the season with a narrow decision over McLain the wrestlers competed in the Webster, O.R.U. and Edison Invitationals. A league victory over Bartlesville boosted spirits.

Losing to Central and Hale in two of their last four matches, the squad dropped from the title race. But wins against Muskogee and Ponca City enabled the team to garner a third place in the 0-7 conference.

Wrestling for Rogers in the state finals were lettermen Paul Clark, Charles Hewlett and Ed Corbett.

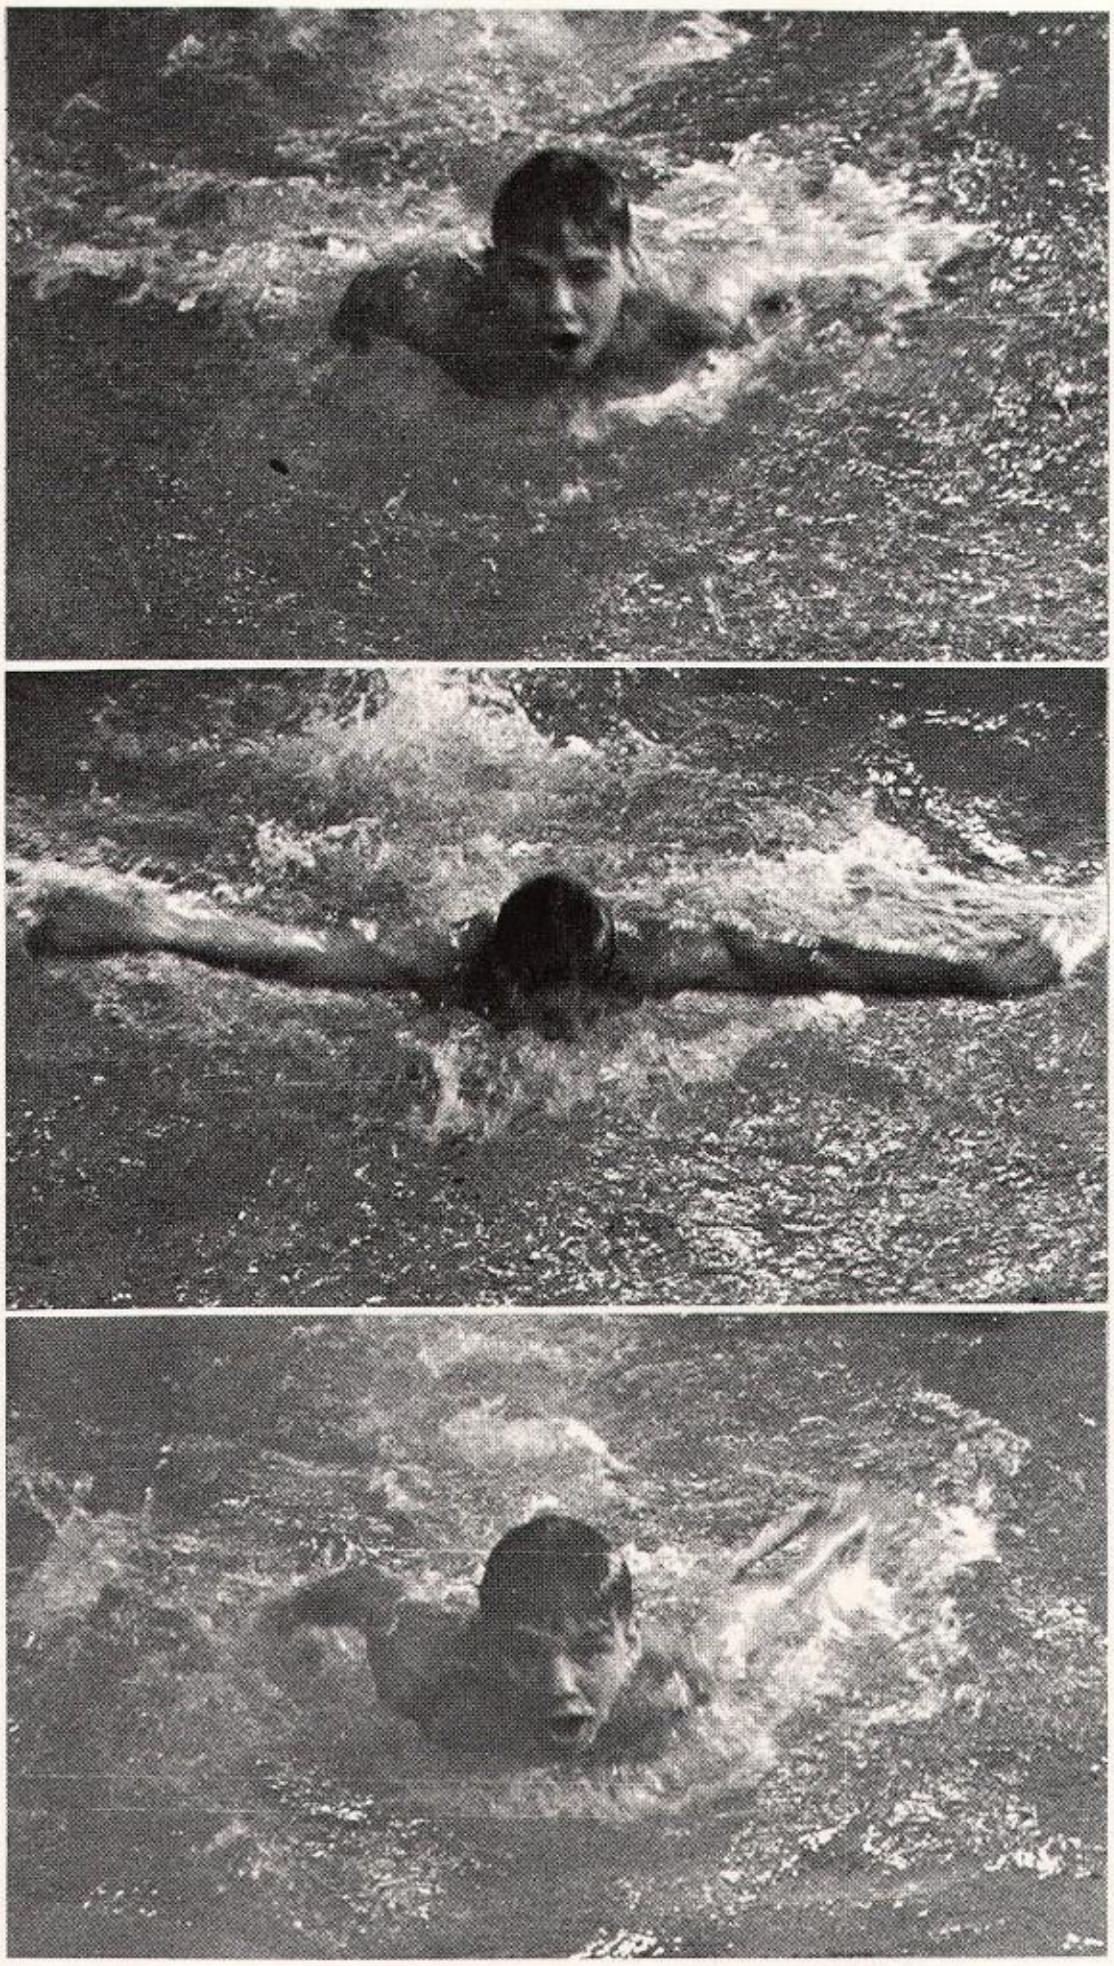
Swimmers Experience Dry Season



The three strokes of the butterfly are shown here by Nick Johnson and Johnie O'Neal.

A young, inexperienced squad, the Roper mermen completed the '68 season with a disappointing 1-9 showing, their only victory coming over Washington, 65-30.

One bright spot for the Ropers came in the name of David Likens. Likens, a sophomore diver, placed first in both the 0-7 conference and the all-city swim meets. He also finished seventh in state competition. Juniors, David Bradley and Bill Hemphill also proved successful in their respective events. Bradley swam the 200-yd. freestyle, and Hemphill the 100-yd. butterfly.

Coach Gordon Morgan lettered ten swimmers. Six of them were juniors, three were sophomores and only one, Nick Johnson, was a senior.

Spring Athletes Brave Cold Weather

Charlie Kimball, Doug Griffith, Fred Morgan and Larry Brasel return as golf lettermen.

Spring marks the beginning of the track, baseball, tennis, and golf seasons. Starting early in February, the spring competitors suffered many nippy practice sessions in order to perfect their respective talents.

Coach Gordon Morgan's baseballers included eight returning lettermen. Returning infielders were Tim Marrs, Roy Staiger, Larry Jones, and Stan Tatum. Carl Kime and Cliff Hess returned as outfielders, and Tony Redman and Don Corneilson resumed their pitching duties.

Senior lettermen Fred Morgan, Doug Griffith, Charlie Kimball and Larry Brasel, and Sophomore Gary Welch comprised Coach Morey Villareal's golf team.

Although Coach Wendell Wilkinson had only two returning lettermen, Steve Cropper and David Anderson, the first year tennis coach received much help from Alex Oria and David Blosh.

Returning track lettermen include Mike Eslick and Hector Rocha, seniors, and Doug Fugate, a junior.

Student Council Welcomes Students

Student Council, composed of one representative from each sophomore, junior and senior homeroom and a representative from each school-sponsored organization, is the main governing body of Will Rogers. The members take all council business to their homerooms and bring back suggestions to the next meeting. This gives each student a chance to participate in the government of his school.

Student Council began the year by sponsoring a door decorating contest to encourage school spirit and a coronation dance in honor of Miss Will Rogers. They also handled the election of Friendliest Boy and Girl during Will Roger's Week.

Two of Student Council's projects were preparing the student directory, and the ninth grade breakfast.

IUC Plans New School Projects

Members of the International Understanding Club became acquainted with some of the cultures of the world. AFS students Lea Caudron, and Alejandro Oria shared news of their native lands.

In the spring the club planned a party for the entire school. They invited exchange students living in Tulsa to discuss the customs of their countries.

The members organized a Christmas talent show to raise money for the AFS program. An international theme provided continuity for the show which was presented as a regular assembly, allowing students to make donations by purchasing tickets.

Miss Barbara Coombs sponsored the club, which was led by Babetta Jimpie, president; Janice Freeman, vice-president; Mary Hicks, secretary; Barbara Verkins, treasurer; Carol Seitz, student council representative, and Betsy Perry, parliamentarian.

Rogers boasted the largest "18er's" Club in the Tulsa area. All members of this unique group are 18 years old and have donated at least one pint of blood.

Football programs sold by members of Stirrups at the home games featured pictures of the team, cheerleaders and Stirrups.

Some of the projects which they carried out during the school year included selling pop at the junior play, raising money for the IUC by selling football and basketball programs, and holding a breakfast with the Eastside Kiwanis Club.

Any boy at Rogers who has the willingness to work, maintains a "C" average and is a good citizen may become a member.

Heading this year's organization was Kieth Goudelock, president; Bill Brown, vice-president; Buel Culver, secretary; and Larry Glidewell, treasurer. Mr. Dempsey, sponsor, helped the club in all its activities.

New "Faces" Appear In Round-Up

Members of the Round-Up Board poured talent, ingenuity, and work into producing the 1968 Round-Up which featured the theme of "Faces." After the members were selected in May, 1967, the board chose a theme in time to notify the student body before summer vacation. Members divided into committees to discuss scene ideas during the summer.

In December the board held tryouts for everyone wishing to participate in the show. The board then began to place acts in scenes and write scripts for continuity. Completions of plans for scenes brought construction of sets, rehearsals, and work on details necessary for a quality show. With the conclusion of the fifth performance of Round-Up in March, the board officially ended its responsibilities.

Thespians Promote Dramatic Ability

Arie Henson, Joe Tasker, Jo Shahan, and Connie Rush, all talented Thespians, work at the controls instead of on stage as they are accustomed to doing.

Rogers' honorary dramatic society, Thespian Troupe #1167, recognized 31 students who had accumulated sufficient points from participation in plays, assemblies, Round-Up and other dramatic productions to qualify for membership.

Under the sponsorship of Miss Doris Niles and the leadership of President Joe Tasker, initiations were held at Christmas and in the spring. The society strives to promote and extend students' interest in the theatre arts by participation. Meetings were held every other Thursday and featured pantomimes, acting scenes and speeches by outstanding members of the Troupe.

Other officers serving the Troupe were Arie Henson, vice-president; Janet La Forge, secretary; Connie Rush, historian; Jo Shahan, scribe.

Club Explores Scientific Fields

Science students explored many branches of science through meetings of the science club. Several exclusive films, discussing various science topics were obtained for club meetings. Guest speakers discussed such subjects as glaciation in Colorado, salt mines and social diseases.

With the leadership of Don Farris, president; David Gwinn, vice-president, and Don Bechtold, student council representative, the club planned several field trips. For one of the trips they visited the physics laboratory at Tulsa University. Mrs. Lynn Cornett and Tom Lingenfelter co-sponsored the science club.

Who's Who Honors Active Seniors

The Will Rogers Who's Who Committee selected seventeen outstanding seniors and our foreign exchange students Lea Caudron and Alejandro Oria to be honored as Will Rogers' Who's Who for 1967-68. The special committee made up of underclassmen was headed by Steve Wadley, inter-city Student Council representative. Candidates are chosen from the members of their senior class on the basis of their scholastic achievement and participation in school activities. After the committee has made its decision each candidate selected for Who's Who must be approved by a special group of faculty members.

Those students, receiving the Who's Who awards, are honored by having their pictures placed in a showcase for several weeks in main hall. A list of activities for which each student was selected accompanies the portrait giving recognition to the student's contribution to the school and to his fellow students.

In the annual awards assembly at the end of the year each student is given further recognition.

Members of this year's special Who's Who committee are: Steve Wadley, Debbie Wilson, Mr. Moore, Student Council sponsor, Mary Gore and Barbara Bunn.

Academic Achievements Honor

The Tower Awards, The Shaw Achievement Award and The National Merit Scholarship Program recognizes service and academic accomplishments.

The Reginald Shaw Foundation, established by Judge and Mrs. Oras Shaw in 1955 in memory of their son, an outstanding Rogers' senior in 1942, has annually honored five outstanding seniors for their scholastic standing, their activities and moral values. Debbie Huber, Babetta Jimpie, Eddie Lane, Kristine La Pota and Joe Tasker received $100 and the award certificate in the traditional January assembly. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Dobbs represented the Shaws, who were unable to attend, and Dr. Eugene Swearingen, president of Tulsa University presented the awards. Music director, Mr. Wesley Howl, performed on the Reginald Shaw Memorial organ.

The National Merit Finalists represent less than one percent of high school seniors in the nation. After a high score on the National Merit Achievement Test last year, Ed Lane, George McKee, Joe Tasker and John Wagoner became National Merit Semi-finalists.

The Tower Awards are presented for outstanding service contributions to the school. Winners receive recognition in a spring assembly and are presented with engraved mahogany chests. Selections are made from faculty and student nominations by a special screening committee.

Ed Lane and Babetta Jimpie watch Debbie Huber as she receives her Shaw Award from Dr. Swearingen, TU president.

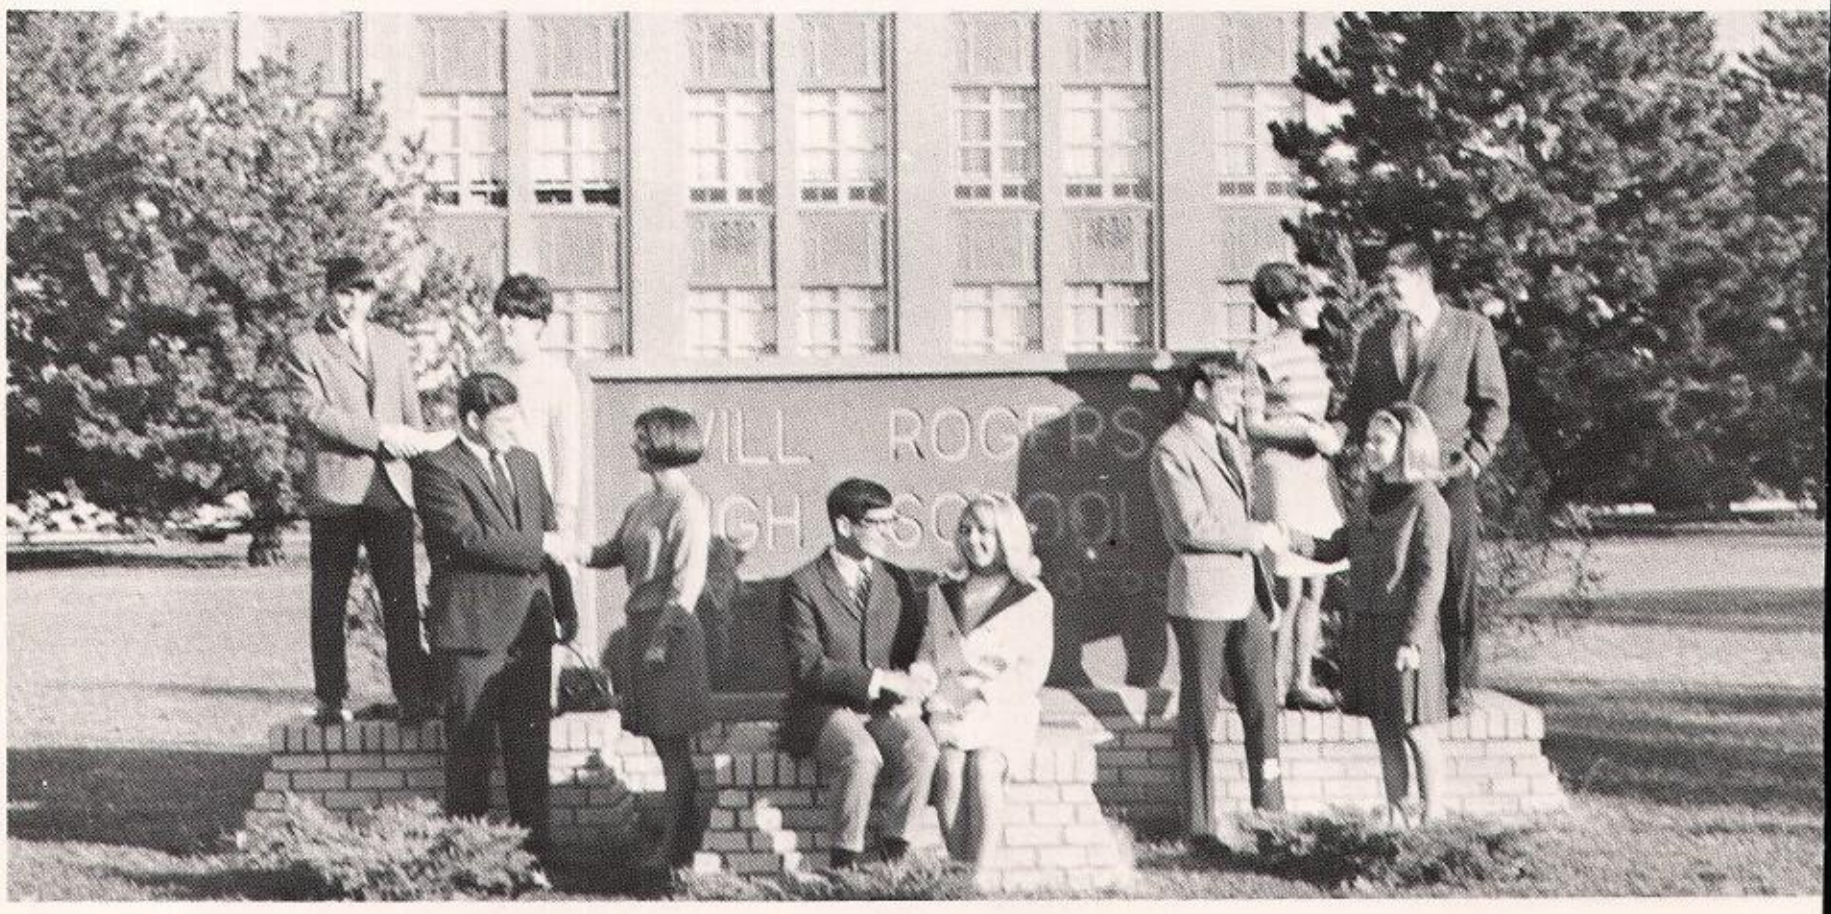
Two Most Congenial Chosen

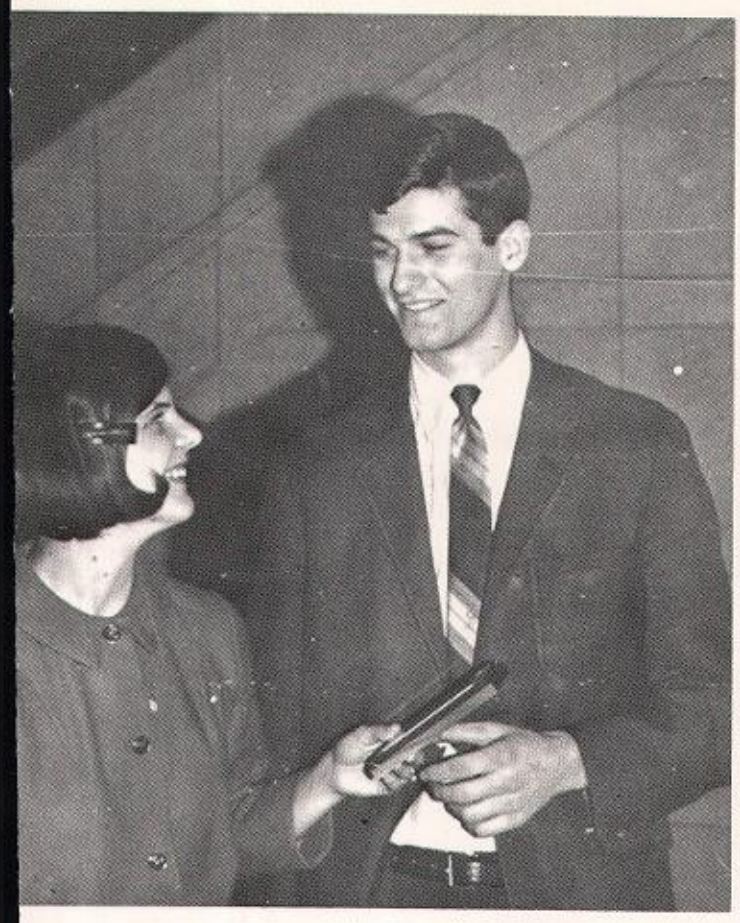
Kathy Folger and Steve Kissenger agree happiness is winning the friendliest contest.

The friendliness of our namesake Will Rogers has become a part of the Roper image. Each year the Student Council sponsors a school-wide election for Friendliest Boy and Girl. The finalists are selected from homeroom nominations and the two winners are announced in assembly during Will Rogers Week. The ten finalists for this honor included Diana Conley, Susan Finegan, Kathy Folger, Charlie Fox, Dinah Glanz, Charles Kimball, Steve Kissenger, Harry Lowery, Jim Seymour and Connie White.

Chosen as Friendliest Boy and Girl were Steve Kissenger and Kathy Folger. Steve is a football captain and letterman, member of the Lariat staff and Student Council. Kathy is head cheerleader, senior queen attendant, member of the Lariat staff, Student Council and a Round-Up participant.

Friendliest boy and girl candidates gather around the Will Roger's marker to congratulate each other with a "friendly" handshake. They ar Charlie Fox, Diana Conley, Steve Kissinger, Kathy Folger, Jim Seymour, Connie White, Charlie Kimball, Susan Finegan, Dinah Glanz and Har Lowery.





Bob Pulliam, basketball letterman, receives his Ugly Man award from head cheerleader, Kathy Folger.

Student Body Selects Ugliest

The cheerleaders sponsor the Ugly Man Contest each year to raise money for the summer clinic which is held on the campus of Southern Methodist University. Candidates are nominated from each homeroom and the six boys receiving the most nominations become the finalists.

Six jars are kept in main hall for two weeks allowing students to vote for the candidate of his choice. The winner is determined by the boy having the most money in his jar. Each penny is equal to one vote.

In March at the Stirrups sponsored Turnabout Dance, Bob Pulliam, 1968 Ugly Man, was presented the plaque by head cheerleader Kathy Folger.

Bob was an outstanding basketball player and a member of FCA. This year's finalists were Bob, Kirk Knight, Harry Case, Tim Marrs, Harry Lowery and Greg Bewley.

Chorale's Work Noteworthy

Under the direction of Wesley Howl, the Will Rogers Chorale maintained a rigorous schedule of performances this year. Early in November the group was featured at the city-wide National Honor Society initiation. On November 8, 1967, the Chorale performed selections from "Annie, Get Your Gun" at the benefit premiere of the movie "The Young Americans."

In the Fall Concert the Chorale and orchestra presented the "Nutcracker Suite". In the spring the singers presented popular songs such as "Love Is Blue" and "Cherish" in a Pop Concert.

The Chorale devoted long hours of rehearsal to perfecting not only their singing but also choreography to accompany the light popular music. Plans are being made by the group for a spring trip to Six Flags Over Texas.

Seventy voices strong, the group sang selections from the "Sound of Music" in the IUC Christmas Assembly. In the Fall and Spring Concerts, Choraliers presented a repertoire of light, popular music and more difficult classical music. The group travelled to Hamilton and Cleveland Junior Highs as representatives of the Will Rogers vocal department. At various times during the year Choraliers sang in programs such as the Vocational Home Demonstration Agents and the Rotary Clubs.

The Mixed Chorus and Girls' Glee Club began their activities by participating in an all-city chorus. Rehearsals were held through November to prepare choirs from all nine high schools for a musical presentation during observance of the Fine Arts Festival.

Both groups presented concerts in the spring and fall, consisting of religious and secular music. The Girls' Glee Club accompanied the Chorale in their visit to Wilson Junior High, while the Mixed Chorus travelled to Cleveland Junior High with the Choraliers.

Much rehearsal time was devoted by the two choirs to learning Joseph Haydn's "Creation" which was presented in its entirety by the vocal and instrumental departments on April 26.

Instrumentalists Blend Notes

Band officers are Joe Tasker, JoAnn Hodges, Susan Reese, Ed Lane and Buster Kelso.

The band and orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Carl Barnett, prepared music for numerous events throughout the school year. The band marched at football games and for parades besides performing for concerts and special events. Led by Joe Tasker, drum major, band members rehearsed routines before school for shows during intermission of football games.

Receiving an invitation from OSU, the band travelled to Stillwater for Oklahoma State University's homecoming parade. Members also participated in Veteran's Day, Christmas and Fair parades. Buster Kelso, student director; Ed Lane, first lieutenant; JoAnn Hodges and Susan Reese, second lieutenants; served as officers.

Daryl Hammock, John Latta, Glenna Skelton, and John Jill Krumme form a jazz ensemble for the classical features scene of the Round-Up.

Stage Band participates in Round-Up.

JoAnn Hodges, band vice-president, finds time for extra practice before orchestra rehearsal.

The orchestra teamed with the vocal music department to perform Haydn's "Creation" in the spring. According to Mr. Barnett the production was one of the most difficult performed in a Tulsa high school. While rehearsing the "Creation" the orchestra learned to read music written in German which required interpreting cleft signs for some instruments. In December the orchestra presented portions of Tschaikowsky's "Nutcracker Suite" for several junior high schools and the Christmas assembly at Rogers.

For the first time in Rogers' history the girls in the orchestra acquired two dresses for performances. Each girl had a short dress and a long formal which were fashioned out of bright pink crépe. The boys wore dark suits which contrasted with the pink.

Orchestra members selected Glenna Skelton, president; JoAnn Hodges, vice president; and Susan Reese, secretary as their officers this year.

Lassos Demonstrate Intricate Drills

LassO's is the school's drill team composed of thirty girls. This year the LassO's marched in half time activities at home football games, the Tulsa State Fair and the Christmas parade. They also sponsored a bake sale and sold school notecards for money-raising projects.

During the summer four officers were elected to attend a clinic at OU, where they were taught new routines.

Under the leadership of Kathy Kilgrew, and Sponsor Miss Marianne Cooley, the girls practiced daily during the fall. Assisting Kathy were Jane Casebeer, Jenny Key, Sandy Bowman, Eva Patterson and Debbie Twilley.

Majorettes Step In Time with Band

Marilyn Arnold and Paula Leath practice new routines while barefoot in the park.

The Will Rogers Majorettes, a traditional part of the marching band, are under the guidance of Miss Sandra Doolin. This year's Majorettes were Marilyn Arnold, Paula Leath, Betty Campbell and Brenda Sailor. Four girls are chosen each fall on the basis of their twirling ability and musical talent. Activities throughout the year included half time shows, special programs, the state fair and Christmas parades. Majorettes half-time performances consisted of marching, twirling batons and using machetes.

"Alright who hid this under the cabinet" laughs Kathy Folger as Kathy McKenzie and Charlene Clark check triplicates.

"What do you girls mean the staff isn't going to make the #$%—&'(*) deadline!" screams Mrs. Ragsdale, sponsor, to a worried Diana Durst and an optimistic Janice Freeman.

Lariat Staff Agrees

"You mean these appeared in Hoofprints?" gasps Terri Heinly to Emily Wheeler, Jim Seymour and Marilyn Vandervort.

Linus and Anthan Fuller dream of a finished book, while Miriam Lifsics and Irene Holiday crop pictures.

Security Is A Finished Lariat

Yearbook which would maintain the the excellency set by the All-American Lariats of preceding years concerned the 1968 Lariat staff as the members began their work in May, 1967. The staff decided on "The Growth of An Image" as a theme which would honor the people who have contributed to the image of Will Rogers High School.

Members gathered during the summer to select ideas for the cover and outline plans for the book. Part of the staff toured the Taylor Publishing plant at Dallas in June. The new organization of the staff placed members in more specialized positions for organizing, writing and editing the book. In October the editors represented the staff at the OIPA convention in Norman. In May the staff planned an assembly during which the 1968 yearbook was dedicated. Mrs. JoAnn Ragsdale sponsored the staff with Dave Watkins serving as editor in chief.

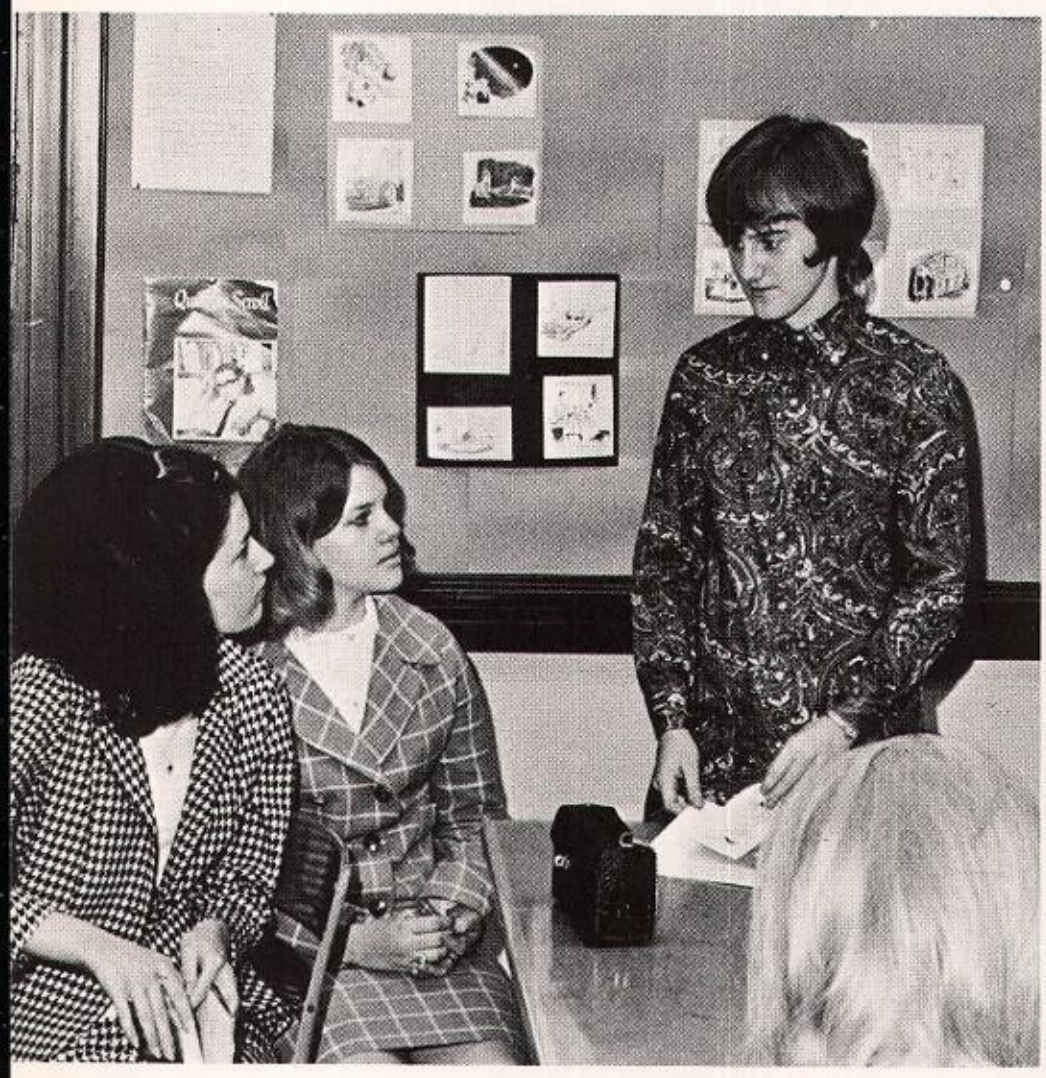
"Wonder where the film goes?" says Don Lawrence to Harold Givens and Dave Watkins.

Staff Meets Double Deadlines

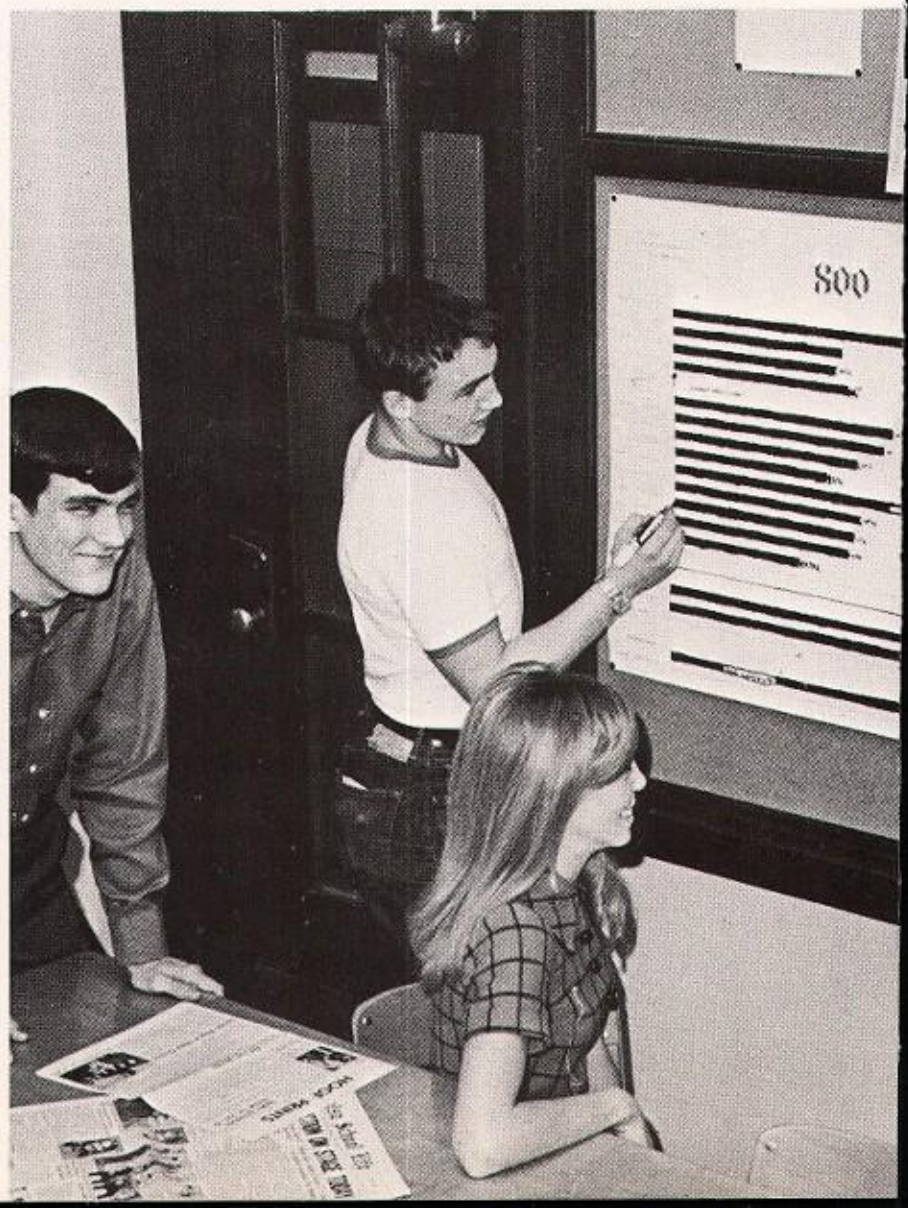
Lynne Monkres and Nancy Parker take aim as their victim Bill Davis works diligently.

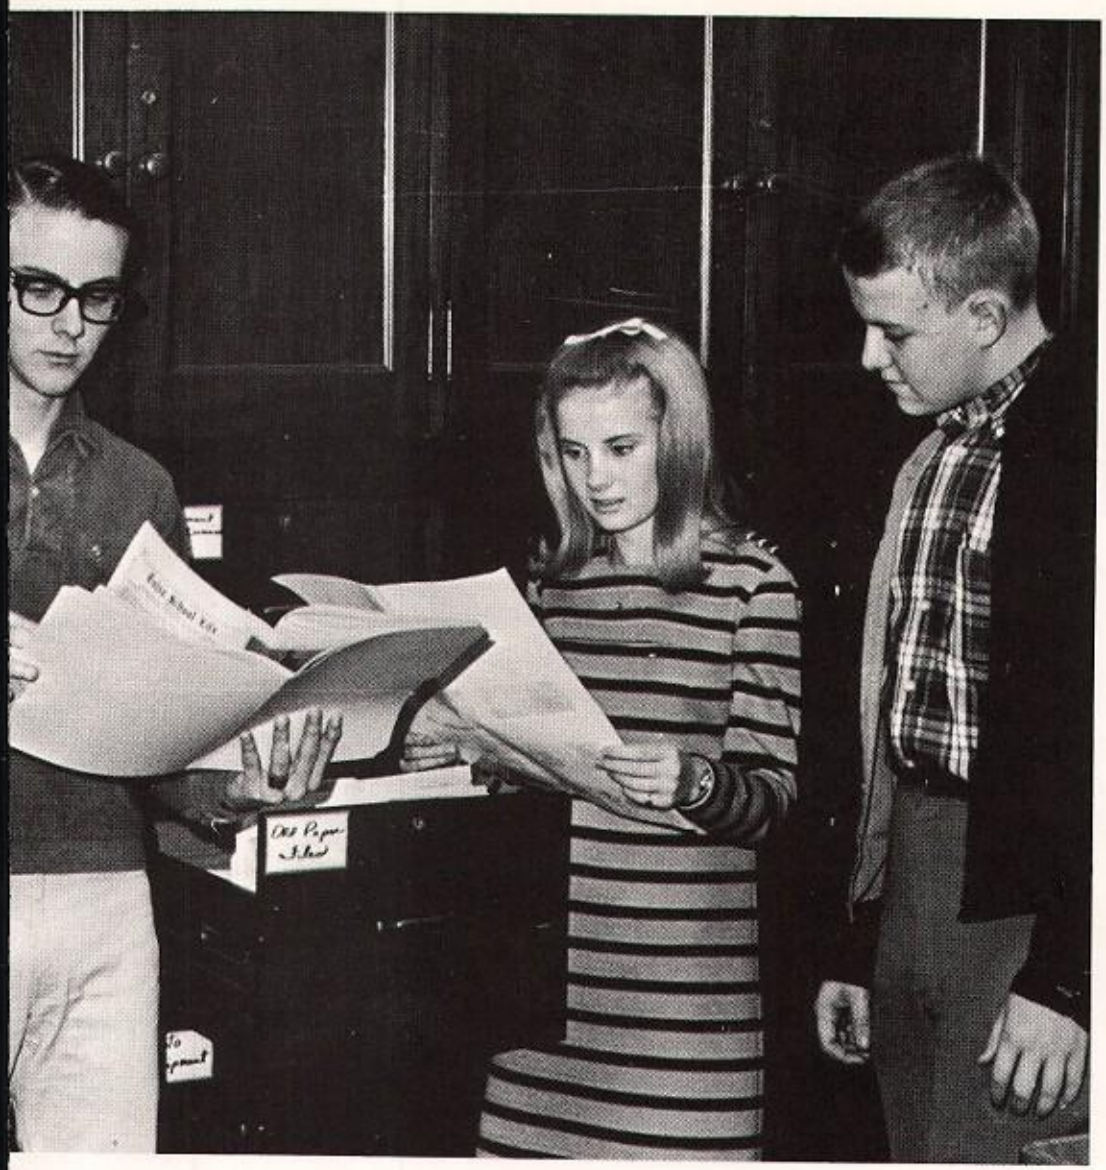
An industrious School Life staff gathered news for Rogers' own newspaper, Hoofprints, as well as School Life, the inter-school paper. Enthusiastic reporters strived for membership in the 800 Club. Previously known as the 500 Club, the honorary organization initiated staff members who had submitted 800 column inches of acceptable copy during the year. Staff members filled positions as page editors, photographers, feature writers and reporters. Members competed to have their material printed in "Rogers at Random," a column in School Life. Freddie Davis served as editor-in-chief with Sponsor Mrs. Nancy Whitman.

Sue McBride, Mary Haskew and Christy Hancock discuss their "beats" for future editions of the paper.

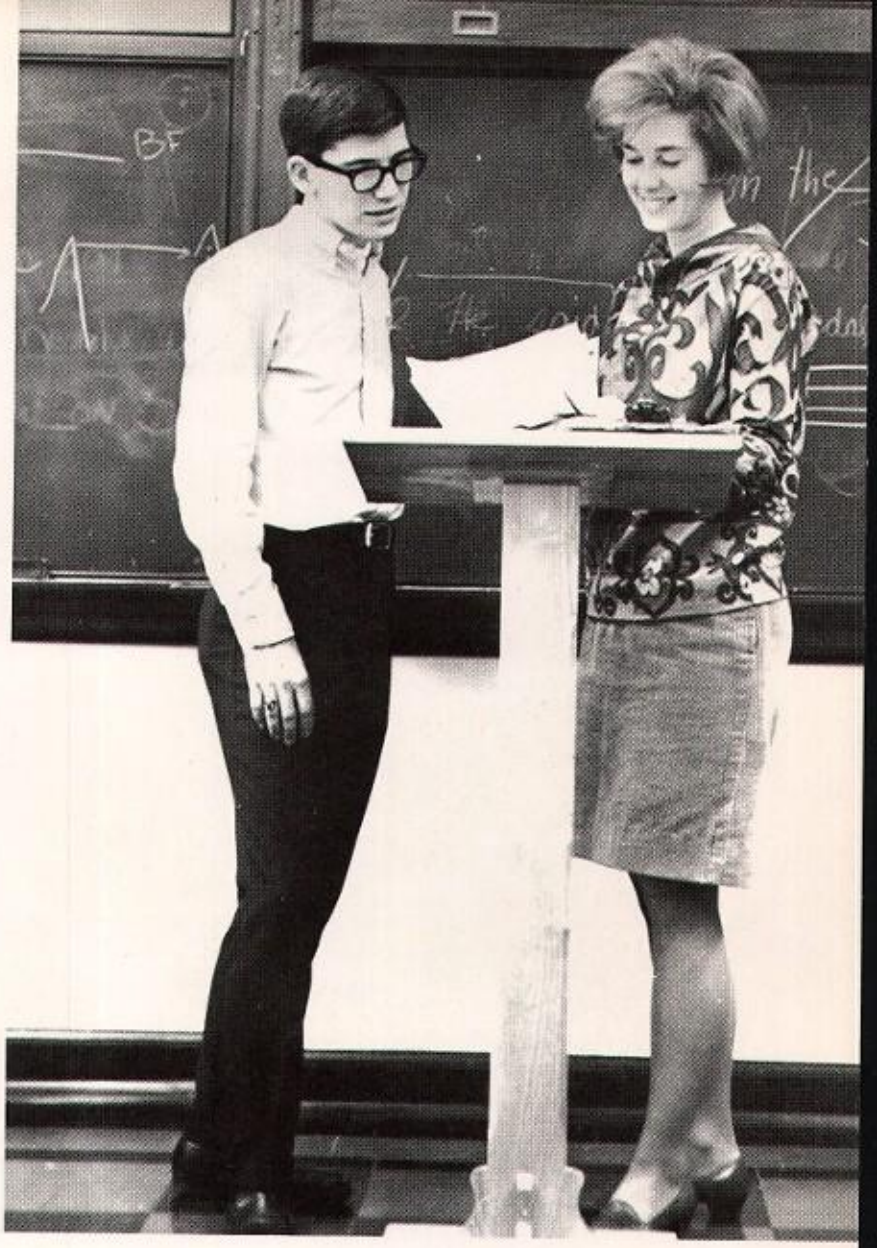


Mike Crow records "inches" as Fred Davis, Lynne Grady and Mrs. Whitman, sponsor, check progress for membership in the 800 Club.





Jim Barnett, Pam Justus and John Marlett check old School Life editions for feature information and ideas.



Jim Leath pauses to speak with Mrs. Whitman.

Charlie Kimball mischievously plots while unsuspecting Steve Cropper discusses School Life business.

11-J Classes Double Size

Diane Bolain, Diane Pitcock, Cathy Davis and Linda Tucker browse through old yearbooks to study layouts, the correct use of copy and cutlines.

Juniors interested in serving on either the School Life or Lariat staffs enroll in journalism, better known as 11-J's. The addition of another class in September doubled the number of juniors accepted for the course. Selection of 11-J's depends upon recommendations from the students' English teacher and an interview with Mrs. Nancy Whitman, School Life sponsor, and Mrs. Jo-Ann Ragsdale, Lariat sponsor.

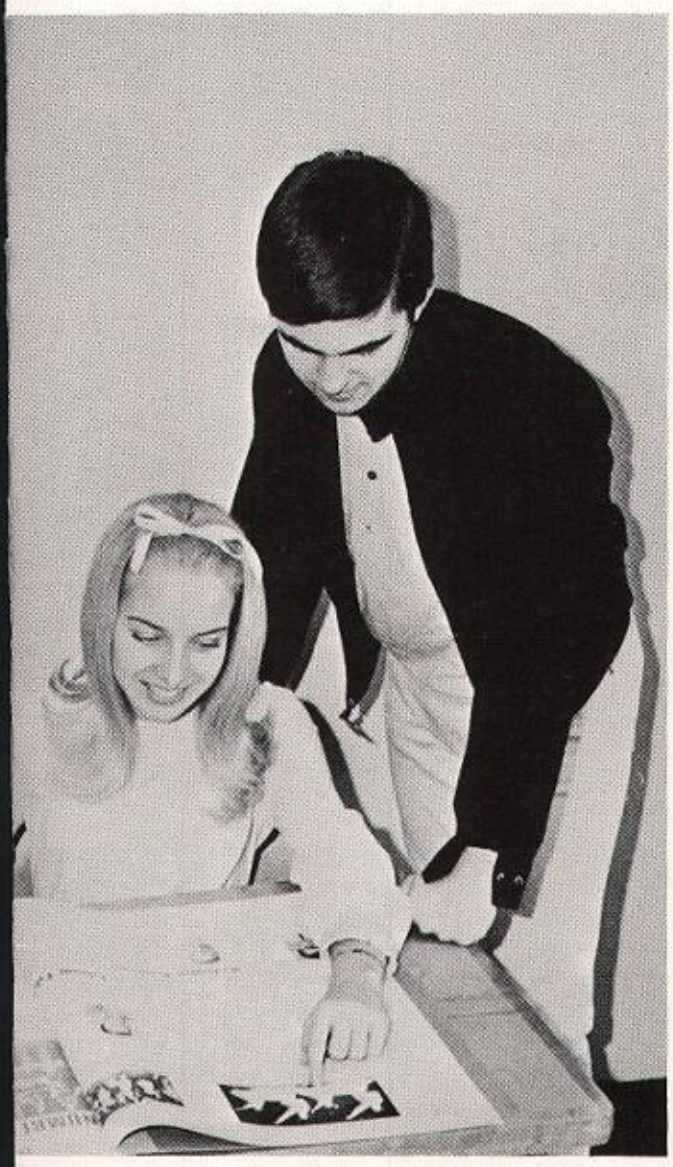
The classes gain knowledge of professional journalism by touring radio, television and newspaper companies. In the spring the 11-J's take over publication of School Life and Hoofprints.

"All work and no play makes jounalism dull", says laughing Janet LaForge as she tries to type.

Nancy McClure and Allen Caperton proofread an edition of Hoofprints.

Billie McPherson, Mandy Miller and Linda Barton chat with Mrs. Whitman.

"Gang Way", shout eager 11J's as they hurry out of the journalism room at the first sound of the bell.



Steve Wadley and Pam Gould examine old editions of School Life to aid in writing a feature story for their edition of Hoof Prints.

Dustin Moore, Roz Raines, Diane White and Jerry Hurst practice cropping pictures to gain experience for next year's senior journalism staffs.

Mari Gore, Diana Hughes and Jerry Coppler concentrate on typing news stories.

All types of writing are included in Ropers' Review. Students are encouraged to submit original poems, essays, short stories and book reviews. Art students compliment the literature with drawings to add to the aesthetic.

Board Directs Junior Activities

The class of 1969 exemplified leadership, enthusiasm, and pride in its activities at Will Rogers. The class was led by Sam Myers, president; Debbie Wilson, vice-president; Linda Naifeh, secretary; Kevin Baker, treasurer; Mari Gore, social chairman; and Janet LaForge, student council representative. Counselors, Miss Kathleen Courtney and Ernest Darling, and the junior sponsor, Miss Sandra Doolin, worked with the Junior Board to carry out a successful year.

In December, the junior play, "A Midsummer Night's Dream," was presented under the direction of Kenneth Brown. During the month of April the important election of senior class officers was carried out and representatives to Boys' and Girls' State were selected.

The juniors anticipated their senior year by awaiting the day when they would receive their senior rings.
